World Jewry Protests Palestinian Council

Ready For Purdue Game Saturday

NEW YORK (Spl.)—Continuing a score of 31-13 at the half and its scoring spree, this time at the expense of the Dartmouth five, the all-Jewish New York University quintet ran up a score of 54-29 against the Hanover Indians in their twelfth straight win of the year.

The N. Y. U. five scored their twenty-ninth home triumph in annexing the contest.

Centenarian

CHICAGO (Spl.)—Claiming that smoking, chewing and drinking have not harmed him in his first one hundred years, Abraham Greenburg, of this city, plans to continue the same routine for the next twenty-five years, he declared on his 100th birthday. The centenarian is shown with a glass of wine in his right hand as he celebrated his birthday.

More than a score of relatives helped him celebrate.

Recuperating

NEW YORK (JTA)—Mrs. Albert Einstein, wife of the famous German-Jewish scientist, was removed to the Montefiore Hospital from her Princeton, N. J., home seriously ill from enlargement of the heart. Prof. Einstein accompanied her to New York.

Mrs. Einstein is reported resting easily by hospital authorities.

Mrs. Einstein, who is in her sixties, has been suffering from the ailment a long time. She is being attended by Dr. C. Lichtwitz, noted German-Jewish specialist, who lives in the United States at present.

SEE RULE BY ARABS WHEN BODY FORMED

LONDON (JTA)—World Jewry, through the medium of the Jewish press and representative organizations, voiced vigorous protest against the action of the Palestine Government in proclaiming a legislative council.

An emergency meeting of the political committee of the Zionist Federation of England adopted a resolution unanimously supporting the stand of Dr. Chaim Weizmann, president of the World Zionist Organization, and other Jewish leaders. The meeting reaffirmed the resolution adopted last September by the World Zionist Congress at Lucerne.

Polish Press Indignant

WARSAW (JTA)—The entire Jewish press here voiced indignation at the proclamation in Palestine of a legislative council, emphasis being placed chiefly on the solidarity that exists between the Jewish community of Palestine and that of the rest of the world.

Warned Against Joining

TEL AVIV (JTA)—Spontaneous, turbulent meetings were held in the principal squares of this all-Jewish city protesting the establishment of a legislative council for Palestine announced by the High Commissioner at a conference in Jerusalem.

Speakers declared that any Jew who accepted nomination to the council would suffer the consequences.

The crowds were dispersed by the police.

Council Proclaimed

JERUSALEM (JTA)—Overriding the united opposition of world and Palestine Jewry, the Palestine Government Sunday night proclaimed a representative legislative council for Palestine.

The official communique was issued on the heels of a meeting between Jewish leaders and High Commissioner Sir Arthur Grenfell Wauchope in which the former gave an emphatic "no" as their answer to the council proposal.

In a seventy-minute conference called for making the same announcement of the council made to Arab leaders the previous day, High Commissioner Sir Arthur Wauchope, after hearing the objections of the Jewish leaders, declared that he understood the Jews' position but that the Government was decided to establish the assembly. He expressed the hope that relations between the Government and the Jews would not be affected.

23- Ounce Baby Triples Weight

CHICAGO (Spl.)—When her first child was born, Mrs. Minnie Schwartz had very little to hold because her daughter weighed only twenty-three ounces. That was three months ago, and now what with the best medical care the baby tips the scales at almost five pounds.

SAYS JEW INSTRUMENTAL IN ALASKAN PURCHASE

Blood Libel In Colombia

MENDELLIN, Colombia (JTA)—The Jewish population of Colombia is just getting over a scare involving the old libel that Jews use blood of Christian children that started here when a local Jew recovered with unusual rapidity from an acute attack of tuberculosis.

Police checking several "eye-witness" reports that the Jew's wife had been seen drawing blood of Christian children found bottles of home made cherry brandy.

The rumor had been printed as a leading story in a number of anti-Semitic newspapers. After the family was cleared, punishment was demanded for these papers and for anti-Semites who had helped to spread the reports.

The Jew, A. Chaikin, who had been living here five years, contracted a severe cold, which developed into acute tuberculosis. After doctors had given up hope for his recovery, specialists engaged by the family succeeded in curing him.

Credence was lent to the rumors by the sudden disappearance of several children.

After ransacking the Chaikin home, police completely cleared the family of the accusation.

British Scouts Drop Swastika

LONDON (Spl.)—Following the action of the British Army last summer in dispensing with the swastika insignia on artillery vehicles, the Boy Scout Association Council voted here to remove the swastika from its two badges of distinction.

Although the council declared that its action originated in a desire to keep aloof from political and religious controversies, an official offered the further explanation that "nothing to which objection might be taken should be worn by scouts or issued by the association."

The swastika adorns the "thanks badge" usually presented to persons outside the movement in recognition of some service to the scouts and also is on the medal of merit, a comparatively rare distinction given scouts. The design was selected more than fifteen years ago.

Badges awarded will not be withdrawn but the holders may exchange them for badges with a new design. When the army dropped the swastika from its vehicles, it replaced them with four-leaf clovers, explaining that civilians greeted the drivers with the Nazi salute.

Jewish Inventor Tests $300 Plane

NEW YORK (Spl.)—A Jewish inventor may be the man who will supply the much sought after airplane, whose purchase price will be in the range of the average citizen.

He is Sidney Abram, of England, whose tiny plane was tested last week at Roosevelt Field, Long Island. Clyde Pangborn, famous aviator, conducted the test of the plane which has been dubbed "Poor Man's Airplane" or "The Flying Flea."

According to estimates the plane can be built on a large production scale to sell at from $300 to $500.

Z.B.T. ADDS 35TH CHAPTER
CINCINNATI, O. (Spl.)—Zeta Beta Tau, oldest national Jewish fraternity in the United States, added its thirty-fifth chapter last week when it pledged the Pi Theta Fraternity, local group at Miami University at Oxford, O., at ceremonies here.

Dizengoff Loses Race

TEL AVIV (JTA)—Early election returns Tuesday indicated that colorful, 75-year-old Meier Dizengoff, mayor of this all-Jewish city of some 80,000 population since he founded it twenty-six years ago, has reached the end of his political career.

The first tabulated results of Sunday's balloting showed Mr. Dizengoff running well behind his laborite opponent, Joseph Aronowitz.

Election Day took on the aspect of a municipal holiday. Colorful parades were held through the streets and the sidewalks were thronged. With fifteen seats being contested by 100 candidates, last-minute campaigning was carried on with vigor. Thousands assembled in synagogues, halls and in public squares to hear speeches.

Mayor For 26 Years

Mr. Dizengoff was mayor of Tel Aviv since its founding in 1909. He turned his entire salary over to projects not financed by the city, such as the Tel Aviv orchestra, the fire brigade and various public improvements.

He has resided in Palestine more than thirty years. Coming here from Russia in 1905, when anti-Jewish pogroms were at their height, he laid the foundation for his career in Jaffa. During the World War, Mr. Dizengoff and other Jews of Tel Aviv were banished to the north. He undertook to supervise relief activities for the stricken Jews, and frequently his life was in danger as a result of the antagonism his activities aroused in Turkish circles.

In 1928, he was elected to the Zionist Executive Committee in Jerusalem and placed in charge of the Executive's new urban colonization department. He resigned this post after a few months when the project failed.

Urged To Run

He has held manifold posts in Palestinian life, including membership in the Jewish National Assembly and the consul-generalship for Belgium.

Recently, he announced that he would not run again for mayor because of the "negative treatment by the Palestine Government of Tel Aviv's needs." Later, after he had been visited by High Commissioner Sir Arthur Waughope, he retracted his refusal.

Masaryk's Aid Told

PRAHA (Spl.)—The resignation as president of Czechoslovakia of Dr. Thomas Garrigue Masaryk, head of the republic since 1918, recalls many instances of the 85-year-old liberator's efforts on behalf of Jews.

The most famous example occurred in 1899 when a Jewish vagrant named Leopold Hilsner was accused of murdering a Christian girl for alleged ritual purposes. Hilsner was convicted on perjured evidence and sentenced to death. The Hilsner trials were accompanied by anti-Jewish excesses throughout the nation.

Prof. Masaryk, then lecturing at the University of Praha, vigorously denounced the ritual murder libel and exerted every effort to prove Hilsner's innocence. As a result of his efforts in Hilsner's behalf, Prof. Masaryk was socially and politically boycotted. Hilsner was finally freed, after having had his death sentence commuted, when new evidence was produced establishing his innocence.

Helped Mendel Beilis

Prof. Masaryk also took an active part in refuting the blood ritual libel in another cause celebre, the Mendel Beilis ritual murder trial in Kiev in 1913.

Dr. Masaryk was an active supporter of Zionism. In recognition of his efforts in behalf of the Jewish upbuilding work in Palestine, a Masaryk forest was planted there on the occasion of his eightieth birthday. His name was further

Jew Urged Alaska Buy

SEATTLE, Wash. (Spl.)—A Jewish fur trader, Jack Goldstone, was instrumental in bringing about the purchase of Alaska by the U. S., J. E. Ballaine, founder of Seward, Alaska, and builder of Alaska's first railroad, declared here.

Speaking before the B'nai B'rith Luncheon Club, Mr. Ballaine said that Goldstone, realizing that Hudson Bay traders would annex Alaska for Great Britain, told the Schloss family in San Francisco of his dream of the United States buying the territory. The Schlosses interested Senator Cole through whose auspices Secretary Seward and the government were led to make the purchase.

Entire Temple Joins Zionists

BOSTON, Mass. (Spl.)—Temple Miskan Teffla, of Roxbury, of which Elihu D. Stone is president, voted to join the Zionist Party en masse at the annual meeting last week.

The meeting adopted a resolution on the Zionist affiliation presented by A. A. Bloom, chairman of the board of directors. The mass joining of the Zionist Organization of America by the Temple is believed to be the first move of its kind in the United States.

The reason many Jews have Mongolian blood today can be traced to the Tartar invasion of Eastern Europe in the thirteenth century when the Mongol horde came into contact with large numbers of Jews.

honored by the establishment of a Masaryk colony for Czechoslovakian Jews in Palestine.

In 1927, Dr. Masaryk became the first head of any European nation to visit Palestine.

Although long rated as one of the greatest friends the Jews have, Dr. Masaryk once explained that he was not a philosemite. "But all my life," he added, "I have been careful not to do any injustice to the Jews, and that is the reason that people accuse me of supporting the Jews."

Fear For Future

The fear is voiced in Jewish circles that Dr. Masaryk's resignation may bring to a head anti-Semitic agitation that has for some time been simmering in various sections of Czechoslovakia, particularly the German parts.

The reason for this is that the balance of power is believed to be held by the Nazi leader, Konrad Henlein. Both the conservative and liberal parties are accusing each other of seeking Henlein's support.

This situation is reported to be disturbing both to Dr. Masaryk and Foreign Minister Eduard Benes, who will succeed Dr. Masaryk in the presidency, and who also is known as pro-Jewish.

Everlasting Minyan For Baron Rothschild Shrine

JERUSALEM (JTA)—Palestine Jewry this week began making elaborate preparations for reburial of Baron Edmond de Rothschild, noted Jewish philanthropist, on Palestine soil and making his tomb a national shrine. Baron de Rothschild's body was recently sent here from France.

The body of the famous banker, who died last year, will be interred on the highest mountain in Zichron Jacob, one of the colonies endowed by Baron de Rothschild. One hundred dunams of land have been reserved.

Near the tomb, a special synagogue will be erected in which a permanent minyan (the ten men required by Jewish law to hold group services) will constantly render psalms and portions of the Hebrew Talmud in his honor.

In addition, a special road will be laid from the main highway to the tomb.

The Palestine Jewish Colonization Association, which administers the group of 29 settlements founded by Baron de Rothschild, owns twice as much land as the Jewish National Fund. The Jewish philanthropist spent about $50,000,000 on these colonies.

Frats Meet Next Week

NEW YORK (Spl.)—In Chicago, in St. Louis, in Pittsburgh and in many other cities throughout the United States, national Jewish fraternities were completing arrangements for annual conventions to be held next week.

The Zeta Beta Tau fraternity will meet in Chicago, where Gov. Horner will preside. S.A.M.'s convention has been set for St. Louis with the annual award for outstanding achievement going to Dr. Maurice Brodie, of infantile paralysis fame. Phi Epsilon Pi fraters were converging on Pittsburgh where plans for the largest meeting in the fraternity's history were being completed. Phi Alpha's convention is scheduled for New York and Alpha Epsilon Pi will meet in Cleveland.

Library Of Congress Seeks Hebrew Books

VIENNA (Spl.)—The Library of Congress, of the United States, is negotiating for the purchase here of ten fifteenth-century Hebrew books from the collection of Rabbi David Fraenkel, it was learned here.

The price of the volumes are in excess of $10,000, it was reported.

Non-Jews To Divide Huge Jewish Bequest

SPOKANE, Wash. (Spl.)—Two non-Jewish officers of the Spokane & Western Trust Company are charged with the task of distributing eighty per cent of the $170,000 left by Julius Galland among Jewish organizations.

As a result Joe Reubens, Theodore Galland and Samuel Edelstein have been called in by the trust company to act as advisors. A Julius Galland Estate Corporation has been formed to aid in the work.

Sherrill Complains Dogs Awake Him

NEW YORK (Spl.)—The man who threatened a pogrom in the United States if Jewish leaders did not desist from fighting for non-participation by the United States in the Olympics, Brig. Gen. Charles H. Sherrill, was in court here to press charges against his neighbor, whose dogs he complained, barked in the middle of the night.

Although a lawyer for the past forty years, Gen. Sherrill's appearance in court was the first of his legal career. Magistrate Renaud ruled that the dogs' owner must keep them quiet on pain of having their permit removed.

Extend 'Jim Crow' Seats

LWOW (JTA)—"Jim Crowing" of Jewish students in Polish universities was extended by the Lwow Polytechnic Institute this week when authorities ordered Jewish students in the fourth and fifth years of the engineering school segregated in separate lecture rooms.

The Jewish students served notice on the dean that they would not comply with the order.

"Do as you like," the dean replied. Meanwhile, at the order of Minister of Education Swietoslowski, the rector of the institute left tonight for Warsaw, evidently to confer about anti-Semitism in the school.

HOLLYWOOD—When Dave Rubinoff registers at a hotel, he signs "Rubinoff and His Violin." And thereby hangs a tale. Years ago an 8-year-old "greener" from Russia obtained a job in a factory in Minneapolis. Work at the factory was just an economic necessity for him. . . . outside he had two passions which filled his spare moments—play a violin and to watch prize-fights. After long careful saving he managed to buy a cheap violin. It became his greatest treasure and constant companion . . . he took it to work, to the prize fights, even to bed! Hence, the slogan which has stuck to him all these years, Rubinoff and his Violin."

Getting into the Jolson ranch is almost like entering a castle of the Middle Ages. First your voice is transmitted through a device to the inner sanctums . . . if it is recognized as that of a friend, the gate, silently controlled and operated by electricity, opens before you. By that time, if you're still there, you may enter.

They do say that Claire Trevor is a Matzoh-Eater. We'll have to do a bit of sleuthing for her real name.

leaving two small categories in which to shunt off the few duds.

Feeling Round the Lots:

Some say Paulette Goddard and Chaplin have been married a year . . . and they're still denying it! Aline MacMahon and her husband, architect Clarence Stein, will quit the cinema scene until Aline has seen the world . . . they'll visit the Orient first. Sylvia Sydney is boating to England for her next picture. June Travis is bringing her parents, the Harry Grabiners, to the celluloid village for a vacation. At last after months of waiting and watching, Maxie Rosenbloom got a studio "break" . . . got a long-term and a feature role in "Green Shadow." There's another Charles S. Chaplin in movies . . . he's a film salesman. The Sam Coslows' horse came in and paid 65 to 1 . . . but they were ocean-bound and hadn't bet a penny on her.

Eddie Cantor's laugh-getter, "Shoot the Chutes" will surely be a success—it's going through title-changing throes now . . . latest tag is "Strike Me Pink" inasmuch as Eddie's screen character's name is Mr. Pink. And Eddie not only struck himself pink the other day, but did a bang-up job of red, black and blue. He had a scene to play in which he cracks a long whip. Practicing, he wound the thong around his neck on the first try, and bruised his eye with the handle on the second. Nice work if you like it!

The Spewacks, Bella and Samuel, have turned their Hollywood journey to good account. Their "Boy Meets Girl" play on Broadway is another satire on the screen world and hailed as a hit.

The new producer's building on a certain lot was used as a prop one day when they needed an exterior shot of a maternity hospital. After the scene was taken, the camera and sound trucks were moved away but they forgot the large sign, "Maternity Hospital." "Ah, yes," commented a green-eyed, waggish scribe, "It must be that that's where leas are born!"

And that's jolly Hollywood.

Jews Prep For Games

VIENNA (JTA)—A number of Jewish swimmers are preparing to participate in the 1936 Berlin Olympics despite the decision of the parent Jewish sports body to boycott the games, Professor Ernst Vogel of Bruenn, Czechoslovakia, charges in the newspaper Die Neue Welt.

Prof. Vogel gives Czechoslovakian newspapers as authority for the statement that eight men and one woman, members of the Bar Kochba and Hazibor Jewish sports clubs, are training for the games.

He points out that under the resolution adopted by the Bruenn world congress of the Maccabi Jewish sports association, Olympic committees are called upon not to send Jews to the games, but Jewish athletes are not specifically forbidden to participate.

Winchell, Untermeyer Get Low Licenses

NEW YORK (Spl.) — Walter Winchell, famous columnist, will retain his 1935 license numbers, "WW11" and "2W2" and Samuel Untermeyer's limousine will carry the number "2U" for 1936 on its license, records at the Bureau of Motor Vehicles reveal.

The "WW" stands for Walter Winchell and the "U" stands for Untermeyer.

Other leading Jewish persons fortunate enough to have low license numbers are James P. Warburg, "3G34"; Max D. Steuer, "1G3"; Paul Block, "J4"; David Rubinfeld, "UU2"; S. L. Rothafel, "RR6"; Nathan Straus, Jr., "NS1"; Irving Berlin, "7B"; Ed Wynn, "YY2"; Mark Hellinger "G17"; and Louis Sobol "F11."

Decrying the general belief that the low tags entitled owners to special police immunity I. James Brody deputy commissioner of the bureau declared that with many of those listed the numbers were sought because of superstition, lucky incidents and initials.

Honor Catholic Woman Head of Jewish Children 25 Years LOUISVILLE, Ky. (Spl.)—The Jewish Welfare Federation of this city is raising a purse to present to Mrs. Anna Nevils, devout Catholic, who this month is completing her twenty-fifth year as superintendent of the Jewish Children's Home.

Beloved by all social workers for her kindness and patience in handling children, Miss Nevils was termed by Charles Strull, member of the board of the Federation, "one of the best Jewish social workers in the city."

According to proven documents Haym Salomon's (Revolutionary pioneer) advances to the government totaled $658,007, a tremendous sum for those days. This money was never repaid.

Find Relief For Cancer

BALTIMORE, Md. (Spl.)—Relief for hopeless cases of cancer sufferers was promised with the announcement that Dr. David I. Macht, director of Pharmacological Research Laboratories here, had successfully experimented with cobra venom, the deadliest of all snake poisons, as a killer of pain.

When applied in small diluted doses, the venom has been found effective in hopeless cancer cases as well as in some other types of pain, Dr. Macht has reported. The advantages of the cobra poison over morphine is that the venom is not habit-forming.

Council of Jewish Women Should Endorse Noble Stand of Dr. Magnes

How little it is in the power of the participating generation to judiciously evaluate the historical significance of a contemporary event may well be illustrated by the paucity of attention given in the United States to the noble and courageous declaration of Dr. Judah L. Magnes, anent the eternal neutrality of Palestine.

In the face of a regenerated British chauvinism, Dr. Magnes boldly criticized the imposition of sanctions on the Holy Land. Like a prophet he protested against the transformation of the country which nurtured the religious great into an armed camp and called upon the world to recognize Palestine's privilege in a war-directed world of observing peace and justice.

Let Palestine, Dr. Magnes urged, lead the world to peace.

Forthwith Lord Melchett, famous Jewish leader, Col. Josiah Wedgwood, M.P., magnanimous friend of the Jews, and Prof. Norman Bentwich, heatedly and bitterly denounced Dr. Magnes' cry for peace. Deserving reason for emotion Lord Melchett summarized the opposition when he wrote to The Manchester Guardian that Haifa is capable of becoming an excellent natural base for eastern and possibly southern air routes of the British Empire. He pointed out that in the event of hostilities thousands of young Jews have assured him that they would insist on being enlisted.

Dr. Magnes' proposal is nothing short of epochal. Replying to his critics, who unquestionably represented Jewish public opinion of Great Britain, the former rabbi of Temple Emanu-El of New York wrote that "this principle of neutrality for mandated territories might well begin with Palestine inasmuch as it is a Holy Land and shares a great variety of interests, religious, national and cultural among its diverse population; and I thought that if once applied to Palestine, this principle of neutrality might then find its way into other mandated territories and perhaps larger sections of the world, thus creating enclaves which the ravages of war would not touch."

What Dr. Magnes is groping for may have vast effect on world peace. Dr. Magnes' statement might be likened to the few voices raised in 1917 against U. S. entry into the World War. Definitely unpopular, the statement marks Dr. Magnes, if his past achievements have not already done so, as a world statesman of the highest calibre, exemplifying a disregard of public disfavor for the stronger concepts of his worldly mission.

It is the mission of the Jew—world peace.

In America the Council of Jewish Women have undertaken to educate the United States towards peace. This paper calls upon the Council to endorse the stand of Dr. Magnes. Both the Council and World Peaceways have overlooked the one practical move in the treacherous progress to peace. Their support would enhearten and encourage Dr. Magnes in a task which has gained him little glory and much contempt.

The fight of Rabbi Elias Margolis, spiritual leader of Emanu-El Synagogue, of Mount Vernon, N. Y., against the order of the city board of education barring Mount Vernon's musical societies from using the auditorium of the high school for concerts at which Handel's oratorio, "The Messiah" and such famous Christmas carols as "Silent Night, Holy Night," and "Hark, the Herald Angels Sing," were sung, falls in the category, from the news standpoint, of the man biting the dog. Had Rabbi Margolis fought against the presentation, he would have, in the estimation of most of the public who are gradually learning about the Jew from such men as the New York rabbi, been more in keeping with their idea of a clergyman whose real interest is his own flock to the exclusion of consideration for any other flock.

This Paper Against The Newest Plans of the Anti-Olympic Forces

This paper is against the newest plan of the Anti-Olympics group for the holding of a counter Olympics in a European nation to compete with the Berlin Games. This new plan is doomed to failure. But in its wake it will bring on its backers the condemnation of the American public which has traditionally cheered a good fight, but always booed a poor loser.

This paper does not expect any Jewish athlete to compete in the Olympics, as Czechoslovakian Jewish athletes are reported to be preparing for, and it does not expect any Jews to contribute to the sending of a team to a nation whose announced purpose is, among other things, the propagation of Anti-Semitism, but it still cannot countenance the sabotaging of the Nazi Games.

Let the fight against the Olympics continue. Let the Anti-Olympic forces direct their efforts to educating the American public to the evils of Nazism. But by all means let these efforts be directed on psychologically sane paths so that when the fight is over, win or lose, no one can charge that the contest deteriorated to the same low plane as that on which the Nazis are operating.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Senior Vice Commander of Jewish War Veterans Answers Rabbi Friedman

To the Editor:

We are sending you, herewith, a copy of the answer of Harry H. Schaffer, senior vice commander-in-chief, to the letter published by Rabbi Benjamin Friedman of Syracuse, New York.

Please be good enough to give it the same publicity as the letter of Rabbi Friedman received.

E. M. FREDMAN,

Secty. to commander-in-chief, Jewish War Veterans of the U.S. New York, N. Y.

We need a Jewish War Veteran Organization because no other organization is so well qualified to fight the battle of the Jew.

Admitting that existing veteran organizations impose no restrictions upon membership, we contend there is a need for an organization such as ours.

Whereas other veteran organizations' aims and purposes are to uphold the Constitution of the United States, and to work for the best interests of the veteran, the Jewish War Veterans, not only include the above aims, but also have the distinct object and purpose of combatting anti-Semitism and bigotry, and upholding the fair name of the Jew, wherever and whenever unjustly assailed.

It is unreasonable to expect veteran groups such as the American Legion, V.F.W., and the Spanish War Vets, to single out the Jew and fight his battle. That is the distinct job of the Jewish War Veterans.

We are not in competition with the other veteran groups. On the other hand, they welcome us with open arms and seek our co-operation in all matters affecting the best interests of the United States, and of these men who fought, bled and gave their all for the principles for which our Republic and Constitution stands.

Were we to organize a Jewish post of the American Legion, as has been done in many cities, the charge of segregation would be well founded, but, as a separate organization with distinct aims, we do not lay ourselves open to any such charge.

Once having joined our organization, we advocate that our comrades should also join the V.F.W., American Legion, or other veteran groups to which they may be eligible, thus cementing the relationship between these organizations and ourselves.

Organized in 1896, by a group of Jewish Veterans who had served in the Civil War, and who desired to combat a wave of anti-Semitism, which was at that time sweeping the country, and to dispel unfounded propaganda, later, the Jews who fought in the Spanish-American War, and still later, those who fought in the World War, organized. In 1923, all of these Jewish Veteran organizations met at a general convention held in New York City and at the suggestion of Hon. Nathan Strauss, consolidated under the name of the Jewish War Veterans of the United States.

It is worthy of note that the six objects of the Jewish War Veterans, as written in the constitution, when we were first organized in 1896, are still in effect in our present constitution. These objects are as follows:

1. To maintain true allegiance to the United States of America; to encourage honor and purity in public affairs; to combat whatever tends to impair the efficiency and permanency of our free institutions; and to encourage the doctrine of universal liberty, equal rights and full justice to all men.
2. To combat the powers of bigotry and darkness, wherever originating and whatever their target; to uphold the fair name of the Jew and fight his battles wherever unjustly assailed.

3. To inculcate and keep alive the spirit of comradeship among the men of our race who fought in the various wars of the Republic.

4. To assist such comrades and their families as may stand in need of help, encouragement or protection.

5. To gather and preserve the records of patriotic service performed by men of our race.

6. To honor their memory and shield from neglect the graves of our heroic dead.

The B'nai B'rith, American Jewish Committee, American Jewish Congress and other Jewish organizations have accomplished a great deal in the fight against anti-Semitism. The Jewish War Veterans, however, representing as they do, 250,000 men who served their country in time of war, are in a far better position to reach the ear of the average man, because we talk to them in a language they understand; namely patriotism.

The other Jewish organizations have come to realize that they can use the Jewish War Veterans as their front line in the battle against anti-Semitism, and are co-operating with us in every way possible.

I believe that the national radio broadcasts under our auspices on every national holiday, with outstanding non-Jews as the chief speakers, have done far more to cement good feeling between Jew and Gentile than any other single factor.

I might also mention that the Jewish War Veterans performed yeoman service in the drive against American participation in the Olympic Games if held in Germany. And lest we forget—The Jewish War Veterans were the first to sponsor the boycott of German goods.

Proof of the need of an organization such as ours, lies in the fact that our membership has trebled in the past two years, and that we now have one hundred and thirty-five posts located in every section of the United States, extending from Maine to California, and as far south as Atlanta, Georgia, and also a post in Paris, France.

HARRY N. SHAFFER,
Senior Vice Commander-in-Chief,
Jewish War Veterans of the U.S.

Wants Children To Register

To the Editor:

As you probably know, the Louisville Hebrew School has been reorganized under the leadership of a new principle and faculty.

While we contend that your child should receive the maximum Jewish education, we are nevertheless endeavoring to make our methods and principles as modern and progressive as can possibly be.

Miss Szold Pulls a Fast One

Only a handful of persons knew when Miss Henrietta Szold, grandest dame of them all, was due to arrive from Palestine for her first visit to the United States, her native land, in six years. . . . Two days from port, aboard the Statendam bound for Hoboken, she radioed Hadassah headquarters here her whereabouts. . . . And included in the radiogram were the words "please, no reporters." . . . And that's why the press, which would have given her a tremendous play, didn't know she was in the country until she was already safely home in Baltimore with her family. . . . Miss Szold, who was 75 on Saturday, Dec. 21, was met at the pier by Mrs. Edward Jacobs, president of Hadassah, and members of the board. . . . the first to

We are certain that your child will not only enjoy coming here daily, but will actually be introduced to Jewish learning and culture that will enable him to identify himself with the Jewish community. We therefore ask of you, for the sake of the preservation of the Jewish community of Louisville, for the sake of our Jewish people, and for the welfare of our children, to come and register your child at the Hebrew School at once.

For the convenience of children living in the southern section of the city, we have established a branch at 1601 South Second St.

Give your child the proper Jewish education under the care of experienced, confident and modern Hebrew teachers.

Problems

By SAMUEL S. MARKUN

Well, I'm glad to be able to help in my own small way those of you who have written to me for advice. In many instances I have had to do research work and correspond with national Jewish leaders before answering certain letters, so those of you who haven't seen your "problems" in print, have patience. Other letters I have received are of such a nature that printing would not be advisable. These letters I am answering personally by mail; some I haven't gotten around to, but rest assured that every letter sent in will be taken care of to the best of my ability.

Dear Mr. Markun:

I would like you to recommend the name of a Jewish organization in New York City such as a Junior League, Hadassah, etc., in a convenient locality and one suitable to a girl of twenty.

Thanking you for your trouble,

One of your readers,

SALLY SUSER.

716 Lexington Avenue,
New York.

Dear Sally:

Your letter is a real poser. I know you had no such intentions, but you've sort of put me on the spot. If I suggest the Junior Hadassah, Jewish Juniors may be offended, and many other fine girls' organizations, too. So I've written to the girls' secretary at the Y.W.H.A. for the names of groups appropriate for you, with the aims and purposes of each listed. As soon as I get an answer, I'll be glad to have the secretary of the group I think you'll like the best get in touch with you.

P. S.—Any reader who is a member of a club in which Miss Suser might be interested may have her telephone number by writing to me.

greet her were her sister, Mrs. Thomas Seltzer and Miss Alice Seligsberg, one of the earliest members and a co-founder with Miss Szold of the women's Zionist movement. . . . The most modest of persons, Miss Szold has always shunned the spotlight. . . . Hardly anyone in Palestine was aware of the fact that she had departed, the press there getting wise to the fact after she was well out on the bounding main. . . .

CHANUKAH GREETINGS

On these closing days of Chanukah, "The Feast of Dedication," we feel it a privilege to extend Chanukah greetings to our Jewish friends.

No more inspiring story is told in all history than the epic fight of Judas Maccabeus and his stalwart sons against the hosts of the Syrian Conqueror, Antiochus Epiphanes. With the Maccabees the struggle was not a war for conquest or domination. Their victory was a victory of the spirit, of the right to freedom of belief and worship. Three years after the pagan pollution of the Temple at Jerusalem, on the 25th day of the month of Kislev, Jews led by the Maccabees reclaimed the Temple, purified it, and re-dedicated it to the service of God.

Around this festival, which is now closing, clutter a number of legends which have helped to shape the character of the celebration. One such legend relates only a single cruse of unpolluted sacred oil was available when the Temple was to be re-dedicated. Though ordinarily inadequate, this oil miraculously proved to be sufficient for eight successive nights until other oil fit for the service might be prepared. For this reason, the Jews light candles in their homes, in increasing numbers for eight nights, two on the second and so on.

Chanukah is a time for rejoicing not only on the part of the well-to-do, but also on the part of the poor as well, who are always liberally remembered with gifts of many kinds. Its celebration is an annual re-dedication to these ideals of religious liberty for which the Jews have fought and sacrificed throughout the ages.
